On an ongoing basis, the Board reviews its structure, practices and composition and initiates changes to improve its effectiveness. The Bell Canada Enterprises Code of Business Conduct (referred to as the "Code") explains the standards of behaviour that Bell expects of its employees in their daily activities. It reinforces the commitment of BCE Inc. and Bell Canada (referred to collectively as the "Company") to customer service, its support for a working environment in which people are respected and its sensitivity to the needs of the community that it serves. The Code applies to all employees and executives of BCE Inc., Bell Canada and their subsidiaries. All employees, executives and members of the Board of Directors must certify annually that they have reviewed and follow the Code. The code can be accessed here: http://www.bce.ca/governance/codeofconduct/
ETHICS AND INTEGRITY G4-56 We want to remain a leader in corporate governance and ethical business conduct by maintaining best practices, transparency and accountability to our stakeholders. 	SPECT: ANTI-CORRUPTION

G4-DMA	Anti-corruption training and reporting is material because it is important to several stakeholders and to the success of the business. In our daily activities, we have a fundamental responsibility to address a broad spectrum of issues. These include: preventing conflicts of interest, protecting company assets, safeguarding privacy and confidentiality, treating clients, business partners, team members and competitors with respect and honesty, fostering a diverse, safe and healthy workplace and protecting the environment. Acting responsibly is central to achieving sustainable business success. Related impacts for this aspect are social and economic. We manage training through an online course that tracks each employee. All employees must take the on-line course on the Code at least every two years.
